After entering Centennial Park take the first turning on the left. You will see three buildings ahead of you: Brentano Suite is the middle building – the one facing you at the end. Drive up to that building and turn left into the car park.

After you've parked, please head to reception and say you're here to see me. You don't need to give a name. If nobody is on the main desk then go through the left-hand door to the second reception.

Parking:

There is free parking at the Brentano building – the car park goes all the way around. Please only park in the blue or black bays. There will usually be spaces available.

If there are no free spaces at Brentano you can park next door in the Village hotel for free for three hours (ignore the confusing signs in there, hotel reception confirmed you don't need to do anything for the free hours). When you drive into the Village car park go to the far-left corner, which is right next to Brentano parking so it's easy to walk over into the Brentano building.
